

Dear Clients,

Jorge Ochoa is an Occupational Therapist who comes into your home to provide music lessons for children of all abilities. We took advantage of this wonderful opportunity for our son, Alexander, who is a child with Autism. Mr. Jorge taught music lessons for a total of six visits.

Over that time, we were consistently impressed with his teaching ability and music skills. His dedication and patience with teaching our son, allowed him to bring out Alexander's social interaction, sense of humor, and most importantly the ability to sit and attend to the lesson. Mr. Jorge is highly interactive and talented.

Some of the instruments Mr. Jorge would bring, would fascinate Alexander. The sounds did not disturb him, and he enjoyed every minute playing with the different instruments. Turn taking is one of the greatest lessons to be taught. During his lessons, Mr. Jorge effectively set expectations which Alexander met! As a child with Autism, turn taking may be difficult at times due to the excitement of the task. We were quite happy with the outcome.

We enthusiastically recommend other parents or donors to commit to music lessons for their children! This experience has been one of the greatest for our son and as a family since we were able to participate along with him.

Sincerely,

Carmen Mendoza
